Creating Leaders

DEBORAH TRUTER
Principal

"As a leader, it takes commitment and focus to ensure the right things are being done, and having a team sufficiently mature and skilled to work with their people to get great outcomes. Assisting individuals to embed these skills is fabulously motivating".

Qualifications:

Bachelor of Arts
(Johannesburg)

Graduate Diploma in Education

Expertise:

Leadership Solutions

- Leadership Capabilities and Development
- Team Building
- Recruitment
- Change Management
- Productivity of the Executive
- Coaching

Customer Solutions

- Customer Service
- Creating Long term relationships

Contact:

P   07 3358 1404
M   0410 532 348
E   deborah@creatingleaders.net

www.creatingleaders.net

Experience:

Originally from Southern Africa, Deborah relocated her family to Australia in 2005. Shortly after arriving, she co-founded Creating Leaders as she identified a strong need for highly pragmatic leadership development programs in the Australian marketplace.

Formally National Education Manager for Oracle Computers throughout Asia Pacific, Deborah was also a skilled operator in a range of highly technical roles involving operating systems, databases and a range of computer languages. Oracle Computers recognised Deborah's outstanding facilitation, education and leadership skills and elevated her to a role to upskill senior and middle management throughout the Asian region on their Leadership and People Management skills..

Consistently rated as an outstanding facilitator, Deborah combines her practical international business experience and dynamic communication style to invigorate intimate groups, audiences of hundreds and everything in between. She inspires people across a broad range of topics including Leadership and Management, business relationships, sales, customer service and change management.

At Creating Leaders, Deborah is responsible for developing and delivering world class training and coaching interventions that achieve measurable business results.